

NCHA Celebrity Cutting

UT Southwestern
benefitting Medical Center

The NCHA Celebrity Cutting is a premier event that brings together renowned celebrities and skilled cutting horse trainers to showcase the thrilling sport of cutting and raise money for an unbelievable cause. This unique competition, hosted by the National Cutting Horse Association, will feature stars like Brandon Sklenar, Mo Brings Plenty, Brecken Merrill, and more as they partner with top equine athletes to navigate the sport of cutting. The event highlights the excitement and skill involved in cutting and celebrates the Western lifestyle, offering fans an unforgettable experience filled with entertainment, horsemanship, and community spirit. Join us for a memorable day where celebrities and cutting enthusiasts unite to honor this dynamic and historic sport and raise funds for UT Southwestern Fort Worth.
